QUEEN MARY BEGINS TRIP TO AMERICA

Britain's Mighty Liner Given a Noisy Farewell

Southampton, Eng., May 27.—(AP)—The S. S. Queen Mary, Great Britain's mightiest liner, sailed at 4:34 P. M. (9:34 A. M. Central Standard time) today for New York.

On board the great vessel were 2,139 passengers.

She pointed her bow toward the English Channel amid scenes of public enthusiasm that transformed Southampton's harbor into a vividly exciting welter of sound and color.

More than 500,000 spectators blackened docks and the roofs of buildings and overflowed to vantage points along the Solent. Thousands of motorboats, tugs and excursion craft swarmed like so many chips in a pond about the giant vessel.

Got Noisy Farewell
Ships in the harbor broke out their flags and bunting. Factory and ship sirens screamed a farewell, with the Queen Mary's own siren, audible for ten miles, lifting clearly above the rampage of noise.

The crew of 1,200 worked most of the night to prepare for the passengers making the inaugural trip. Trucks loaded with provisions were taken aboard, oil was pumped into the tanks, strict precautions were taken against stowaways.

Whether the 80,773-ton pride of British shipbuilders would beat the French liner Normandie's time across the Atlantic was the outstanding topic of conversation throughout Southampton, and doubtless throughout the rest of Britain.

May Save Engines
Doubt persisted as to whether an attempt to capture the blue ribbon of fastest ocean travel would be made on the first voyage. Risk of harming the new engines, it was pointed out, might outweigh the risk of disappointing the British public.

These considerations were balanced, however, by reports that direct orders were given Sir Edgar Britten, in command of the liner, to make every possible effort to recapture immediately the speed supremacy on the Atlantic for Britain.

To do so, the Queen Mary must cruise at an average speed of better than 30.35 knots, the record established by the Normandie on a return voyage from New York. On trial runs, the Queen Mary reached a top speed of 32.84 knots.

In any event, the latest colossus of the sea was expected to race to New York in very little more than four days time, arriving there Sunday.

Luxuries Abound
During those four days, the passengers could enjoy luxuries unthought of at sea 20 years ago. They had two swimming pools, one in tourist class. First class travelers could eat in a main dining room seating 800 persons at one time, wander through a main lounge 96 feet long and 70 feet wide, or enjoy entertainment in a veranda grill. They could telephone about the ship, or to any part of the world, and walk on a 750-foot-long promenade deck.

Lowell Park Beach Ready for Use by Saturday Afternoon

The Lowell park beach will be opened Saturday, Decoration day, for patrons of the park. Workmen were today putting the finishing touches on the beach equipment which is being repainted and will be completely overhauled and in readiness for the week end double holiday. Several swimmers have ventured into the water at the park during the past week and announce it to be sufficiently warm for bathing and swimming. John "Apple" Crabtree will resume his duties as life guard Saturday and will be assisted by Louis Schumm. The park has been the scene of much activity during the past two weeks, the shelters being crowded each afternoon and evening with picnickers. Park Police Officer Paul Sodergren is again on duty.

EQUIPMENT OLD TAVERN IS SOLD BY AUCTIONEERS

Historic Articles in Nachusa Tavern Not Offered for Sale

The equipment of the Nachusa Tavern was sold yesterday afternoon by Auctioneers John Powers and Ira Rutt to satisfy a claim amounting to $1500 against the historic northern Illinois hostelry, which was recently purchased by M. E. Rice, former owner. The sale started at 1:30 and continued until after 6 o'clock last evening, more than 600 sales being recorded on the clerk's records. The total amount of the sale was expected to reach a figure in excess of $2,000, it was reported today.

Among the bidders were those seeking equipment or cabins, hostels and house boats as well as those who sought bargains in furnishings which could be used in private homes. As one force of workmen removed the furnishings from the rooms, another force started work renovating the rooms. Other tradesmen will start work in a few days, completely overhauling the hotel.

Antiques Retained
The valuable collection of antiques and historic records in the lobby of the hotel was not offered for sale, but was returned to the several owners who had loaned it to be displayed in the lobby. Mr. Rice stated this morning that when the hotel is reopened, the historic documents and antiques would be replaced in the lobby and the original display would be added to materially.

The hotel is now closed while extensive alterations are being made and will be opened again between July 1 and 15, Mr. Rice said today. Entirely new equipment will be purchased throughout and extensive alterations are to be made on the exterior. The present front porch which is in a bad state of repair, is to be removed and a new entrance system erected.

Many who purchased articles at the sale yesterday afternoon had not called for their purchases at noon today and Mr. Rice requested that all articles sold be claimed at once and removed from the building, so as not to interfere with the progress of repairs.

Funeral of Oregon Man Tomorrow P.M.

The funeral of Cornelius J. Cordes of Oregon, whose wife, formerly Miss Christina Geyer of north of Ashton, preceded him in death last Friday, will be held at his late home, 707 Jefferson street, Oregon, tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and at the St. Paul's Lutheran church in Oregon at 2 o'clock.

ATTORNEY DARES COMMITTEE HURRY PUNISHMENT

Townsend's Counsel in Defiance of House Prosecutors

Washington, May 27.—(AP)—A house investigating committee today voted six to two to recommend to the house that F. E. Townsend and two of his old age pension organization aides be cited for contempt and the case turned over to the United States district attorney.

The committee recommended that the Rev. Clinton Wunder of New York and J. B. Kiefer of Chicago be cited with Dr. Townsend for their failure to appear for examination as ordered in subpoenas.

Dr. Townsend, founder of the movement to pay $200 a month from the federal treasury to everyone past 60, "walked out" on the committee several days ago. Afterward he instructed Kiefer, Wunder and other assistants to join him in refusing to answer the investigators' questions.

Attorney Not Cited
No action was taken against Sheridan Downey, attorney for Dr. Townsend, who was summoned as a witness last night and answered with a defiant letter to the committee challenging it to "punitive action."

In a statement submitted to the committee earlier in the day by Thomas W. Hardwick, counsel for the Old Age Revolving Pension, Ltd., Downey said:

"Like Dr. Townsend, I challenge you to punitive action, for the unholy records of this investigation (into the Townsend old age pension movement) is a shield that will protect us," said Downey's statement submitted by Thomas W. Hardwick, counsel for the Old Age Revolving Pension, Ltd.

The committee refused Hardwick permission to read the statement but accepted it for consideration in executive session. Downey was subpoenaed late yesterday.

"All over America hundreds of newspapers and citizens by the millions approve our conduct," Downey's statement said.

"Defend Defiance"
"Though they energetically oppose our economics they enthusiastically defend our defiance of your oppressive conduct."

"So gentlemen, proceed. Congressional inquiries are on trial. Your delay to force the issue against us weakens your prestige and increases ours. We seek the opportunity to present before the bar of congress or before an American jury our charges against you. Will you not therefore hasten your action, make good your threats and proceed against us?"

Chairman Bell (D-Mo) opened today's hearings by again calling the names of the Rev. Clinton Wunder of New York and J. B. Kiefer of Chicago, officials in the Townsend organization. Neither answered.

Called Townsend
Bell also called the name of Dr. Townsend, who bolted the hearing last Thursday and threw the committee into confusion over what procedure should be used against him.

U. S. Veterans Bureau Files Objections Against Conservator for Thomas Nagle, Dixon

Counsel for the United States Veterans Bureau yesterday afternoon completed the presentation of the government's complaint before Judge Leech in the county court, in an action brought against Mrs. Marie Nagle Hether, conservator of Thomas Nagle, and Attorney Lloyd Scriven, attorney for Mrs. Hether and attorney-in-fact for the late Patrick Nagle, a dependent of Thomas Nagle. The hearing started Monday morning and continued through yesterday, during which time the attorney for the Veterans Bureau presented objections to the manner in which the affairs of the above named defendants had been handled. Objections to the accounting of claims and attorney fees, totaling approximately $1,500 were presented to the court.

Judge Leech granted until June 2 for the filing of briefs by the defendants and set June 15 as the

JUDGE EDWARDS MAY PRESIDE AT OGLE CO. TRIAL

State's Attorney S. Donald Crowell of Oregon was in Dixon this morning in conference with Judge Harry Edwards at the court house, requesting that the grand jury for the April term of the Ogle county circuit court be recalled to consider the murder charge pending against Guy Tallmadge of Rockford, who is a prisoner in the county jail at Oregon. The April term of the Ogle county circuit court adjourned on May 20 until June 4 and on Thursday of next week, State's Attorney Crowell will present a petition to Judge Edwards, sitting in the Ogle county circuit court, requesting the recall of the grand jury. Judge Edwards returned home last evening from Mt. Vernon, where he has been spending several days attending the sessions of the appellate court of the southern district of which he is a member. Indications now point to the Dixon jurist's presiding at the Ogle county trial, in the event that Tallmadge is indicted and an immediate trial is to be had, as was indicated by State's Attorney Crowell.

MARRIED IOWANS FOUND DEAD IN AUTO LAST EVE

Rock Island, Ill., May 27.—(AP)—Vern Scammon, 38, of Davenport father of four children, and Mrs. Earl Post, 32, of Bettendorf, Ia., mother of four were found dead in Scammon's automobile on a side road near the Blackhawk Country club road last night, the victims of a suicide pact as evidenced by a note: "We can't have one another and this is the only way out." Monoxide gas caused their deaths. George Bealer saw the car as he went to work yesterday morning. When he noticed it again upon his return home he investigated and found the couple dead.

The doors of the machine were locked from the inside and one end of an inner tube from a spare tire had been fastened to the exhaust pipe and the other end extended to the interior of the car.

SLAYER OF U. S. REVENUE AGENT CAPTURED TODAY

Indianapolis Liquor Runner Admits Murder Fortnight Ago

Indianapolis, May 27.—(AP)—Lieut. Roy Pope, who participated in the capture of Harlan Crouch here today, said Crouch admitted firing the shots that killed John R. Foster, a revenue agent, during the chase of a rum running car near Hammond, Ind., two weeks ago.

Pope, lieutenant of the Indianapolis police department, said Crouch told of being handed a rifle by James Jacobs, his companion in the car being pursued by Foster and Guy Goodin, a fellow agent.

"I took the rifle and fired three shots," Pope quoted Crouch as saying.

Gun Beneath Pillow
Crouch, caught in a rooming house here this morning by local police and federal agents who found him asleep with a gun beneath his pillow, was taken to the local office of the alcohol tax unit of the internal revenue service.

James Scanlon, head of the local unit, said Crouch indicated he was ready to make a statement.

Foster, a former resident of Marion, Ind., was shot and killed nearly two weeks ago near Hammond, Ind., while he and another agent were pursuing a car in which they suspected alcohol was being transported.

Jacobs Caught Early
James Jacobs of Indianapolis, alleged companion of Crouch at the time of the shooting, was captured at Chicago Heights, Ill., a few hours after the slaying. Jacobs is being held in jail at Laporte, Ind., pending action by the grand jury of the Northern Indiana District court.

Foster and Goodin were in an automobile trailing the suspected rum running car when a man believed to be Crouch fired five rifle shots. Foster was struck in the heart and leg and died instantly. Sam Burns, who officers say is

Service Station Safe Damaged by Burglar in Night

The Shell service station on Third street and Galena avenue, operated by Dean Butler and James Scanlon, was entered during the night and the safe badly damaged. Entrance was gained through a small transom and from all indications, the intruder spent some time in the building, working with a heavy hammer and chisel in an attempt to open the safe, in which he was unsuccessful. None of the stock of accessories was disturbed and nothing was taken. The attempt to open the safe was discovered when the station was opened this morning and was immediately reported to the police who conducted an investigation.

LT. GOVERNOR OF WISCONSIN DIED SUDDENLY TODAY

Hot Springs, Ark., May 27.—(AP)—Thomas J. O'Malley, 68, lieutenant governor of Wisconsin, died here early today of a heart attack. His wife and a sister, a Mrs. Sullivan of Chicago, were at his bedside.

Milwaukee, May 27.—(AP)—Gov. Thomas J. O'Malley, who died suddenly today at Hot Springs, Ark., stepped into his first public office in 1932 after a career of 44 years as a railroad man. Known as "T. J." to his friends, he was elected to office while employed as a passenger conductor on the Chicago & NorthWestern railroad. He continued to divide his time between his duties as lieutenant governor and as a conductor until he left on his vacation trip to Hot Springs. He had been in excellent health and worked regularly on the Chicago-Milwaukee run.

When O'Malley was elected four years ago he was the first Democrat to gain the office in nearly 40 years.

INVESTIGATION OF HORNER PAY-ROLL IS DEMAND

Democratic Senator's Resolution Asks Official Inquiry

Springfield, Ill., May 27.—(AP)—A demand for a senatorial investigation of charges that Gov. Horner padded the state payroll in his primary campaign today was followed by allegations that state employees are now being used in an effort to elect a Democratic Supreme Court judge in the Peoria district.

Senator James O. Monroe of Collinsville, an anti-Horner Democrat, introduced a resolution asking that the Senate investigate pre-primary charges that the governor had added from 25,000 to 50,000 campaign workers to the state payroll at a cost of a million dollars.

Consideration of the resolution was postponed until next week.

Gunning's Charges
Thomas P. Gunning, Princeton Republican, then declared the Horner administration is padding its payrolls in the Peoria Supreme Court district in an effort to defeat Justice Clyde E. Stone, the only Republican on the Supreme Bench at an election next Monday.

Action on Gunning's resolution also was postponed.

Horner did not comment. Monroe in a statement charged that expenditures in the Horner campaign were the largest known in any state, estimating that from $4 to $5 was spent for each of the 820,313 votes received by the governor.

The resolution introduced in the Senate received pre-primary allegations of payroll padding, during which Treasurer John Stiele held up the April 1 checks of code department employees.

Would Have Statement
In addition to proposing an investigation by seven senators, Monroe's resolution asked the governor to file with the General Assembly a statement of his expenditures during the first four months of the year.

The resolution charged that most of the estimated 25,000 to 50,000 "superfluous" employees "were fictitious or temporary, that most of them rendered little or no services to the state but instead x x x spent the time in furthering the candidacy of the governor for re-nomination."

House Republicans last night blocked passage of a $15,000 appropriation to pay Senate employees. Republican Leader L. M. Green of Rockford charging that the upper House is squandering funds on un-needed help.

Green declared that a daughter of Sen. H. S. Burgess, Fairfield Democrat, is getting $10 a day as Senate postmistress and also holds a WPA job. The daughter is Mrs. Ann Burgess Blaisey.

Postpone Action
Consideration of the resolution was postponed until next week when several Senators asked time to consider the allegations. On a motion by Monroe to suspend the

INVESTIGATION OF TWELVE DE-LAYED A WEEK

Congressional Action Demanded by New Yorker

BULLETIN
Detroit, May 27.—(AP)—Declaring that he had received information from "15 to 18" states regarding crimes allegedly committed by the Black Legion, Prosecutor Duncan C. McCrea appealed to Attorney General Cummings today for Federal assistance in investigating the vigilante order.

Detroit, May 27.—(AP)—The extradition of 12 members of the Black Legion on charges of kidnapping and slaying Charles A. Poole was adjourned today until next Tuesday after Prosecutor Duncan C. McCrea had predicted that additional arrests would be made within a few days.

Three witnesses had told of identifying Poole's bullet pierced body before adjournment was taken. McCrea said much of the evidence would be long, and that all of it would have to be duplicated if additional arrests were made.

The hearing came shortly after Rep. Dickstein (D. N. Y.) had demanded that Congress investigate terrorist activities of the masked band.

The courtroom was crowded as the hearing group was led in from the jail where they have been held since their arrests last Friday brought to light the existence of

NO JURISDICTION
Washington, May 27.—(AP)—Attorney General Cummings said today the government has "no jurisdiction whatever" in the Black Legion investigation in Michigan.

Cummings said he had received no request that the federal government enter the investigation, and that he was following the case "only in the newspapers."

the secret vigilante society with a claimed national membership of 6,000,000.

Declaring that "it is apparent that many members of the Black Legion joined through fear," Attorney General David H. Crowley left Lansing for Detroit to make plans for calling a grand jury here to investigate the numerous crimes and misdemeanors attributed to detectives to the Black Legion.

Women's Auxiliary
One phase of the inquiry here concerned a women's auxiliary of the organization, whose members may be pledged to vote in any way required by their superiors. Assistant prosecutor John A. Ricca said "we have cards showing at least 300 women members here."

Crowley said he would discuss with Prosecutor McCrea of Wayne county a report, which McCrea has denied, that the prosecutor once applied for membership in the Black Legion.

McCrea, as he prepared to present his witnesses at the examination of the 12, said he intended to "stamp the Black Legion out as I would a pestilence."

Although V. P. Effinger, spokesman for the Black Legion, asserted at Lima, O., that the organization for which he claimed 6,000,000 members should not be held in disrepute for the actions of a few men, Crowley said he considered the legion definitely a "menace." He invited all persons with knowledge of the secret order to communicate with state police.

Investigate Shrine Fire
Already, authorities were investigating the burning of Father Charles E. Coughlin's original Shrine of the Little Flower, numerous reports of floggings, and at least a dozen deaths over the state for possible connection with the night riding terror.

From Waynesfield, O., near Lima, came a report of a flogging to match the alleged beating of a wavering Black Legionnaire at Norvell, Mich., in connection with which five men were held under $10,000 bond today at Jackson, Mich.

William Smith, 55-year-old Waynesfield farmer, told Ohio au-rules, most of the Senators sat silent.

Monroe said he planned to introduce a bill to make it unlawful for any state official to increase the payrolls in any of the three months prior to an election.

Senator Thomas P. Gunning, Princeton Republican, then introduced a resolution for an investigation of charges of payroll padding and use of state employees in behalf of the Democratic candidate in the peoria district Supreme Court election.

Gunning charged the Horner administration is making every effort to defeat Clyde E. Stone, the only Republican Supreme Court justice, at an election next Monday. His resolution also was deferred.

"We hear a lot about stealing votes in Chicago but nothing about buying votes downstate," Monroe told the Senate. "One practice is as corrupt as the other."

Harold G. Ward, Kelly spokesman, said:

"We have heard a great many stories about election thefts in Cook county. I'm for honesty all over the state. If Senator Monroe is right, this should be investigated."

Horner is Silent

It was announced that Horner would not make any immediate comment.

Gunning, asking for immediate consideration of his motion, said he had information that payrolls are now being padded in the Supreme Court campaign, where the Democratic candidate is State's Attorney Josef T. Skinner of Princeton.

"We can't have a Supreme Court judge considering the acts of the legislature when he was put there by padded payrolls," Gunning said. "The time has come when we must clean up the judiciary if we do nothing else."

AMERICANS GET OVER TWO MIL-LIONS FROM RACE

Twenty Citizens of the United States Hold
Lucky Tickets

Dublin, Irish Free State, May 27.—(AP)—Nine Americans held Irish sweepstakes tickets on Mahmoud, the horse which won the English Derby today and, in consequence, each will receive $150,000.

Five more tickets were held in the United States on Taj Akbar, which ran second, and to each of these ticketholders goes about $75,000.

Six tickets were held in the United States on Thankerton, the horse which ran third, and to each of these ticket holders goes $50,000.

In consequence, the three "in the money" horses pay $2,025,000 to Americans who won tickets on them in the Irish Hospital Sweepstakes.

The holders of tickets on Mahmoud were from New York, San Francisco and Long Island.

Tickets on Taj Akbar were held by residents of New York and Orange, N. J.

U. S. Will Collect

Washington, May 27.—(AP)—The government will take a sizeable chunk of Irish Sweepstakes winnings from Americans as its cut for income taxes.

While refusing to estimate of what percentage of the $3,044,000 won by Americans would be collected as income tax, it was calculated that single individuals, without dependents, who won first prizes of $150,000 would pay the government approximately $64,568 each.

Holders of $75,000 second place tickets would pay $19,528, if single without dependents, while the six holders of the third prize of $50,000 would each pay $9,378 of taxes on the same basis.

ZION MINISTER
FACES MANN ACT
CHARGES TODAY

Married Preacher Held Under $2000 Bonds by Commissioner

Chicago, May 27.—(AP)—United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker today ordered the Rev. Finis Jennings Dake, 35-year-old pastor of the Christian Assembly church of Zion, Ill., removed to Milwaukee for trial in the federal court there on charges of violating the Mann act.

The six-foot pastor made no attempt to deny the charge in court, but afterwards told questioners there was no truth in the government's allegation that he took Emma Barelli, 16, from her home town of Kenosha, Wis., to East St. Louis, Ill., for immoral purposes.

The husky minister's eyes were bloodshot after a night in the county jail. He was arrested yesterday at his home in Zion by department of justice agents.

Walked ordered the Rev. Mr. Dake held in $2,000 bond and remanded him to the custody of the United States Marshal.

Wife Defends Him

Louis J. Portner, 31 St. Louis and Stewart B. Krohn of Chicago, attorneys for the minister, said they would post bail this afternoon.

Mrs. Dake, herself an ordained minister, defended her husband saying Miss Barelli was a hitchhiker whom the Rev. Mr. Dake took to East St. Louis to give a home with his sister, Mrs. Dake said she had met the girl.

The Rev. Mr. Dake and his wife are the parents of an 8 year old daughter.

Raymond Drumlaski, Assistant United States Attorney, charged that Dake had registered at hotels in Waukegan, Bloomington, and East St. Louis, Ill., with the girl under the name of "C. Anderson and wife."

Admits Registering

Dake, the prosecutor said, admitted registering and that the girl accompanied him on the trip, but denied any intimacy.

Drumlaski said Dake explained his interest in the girl to a desire to help her from an unhappy home life and to interest her in church work.

After registering at East St. Louis, Drumlaski said, Dake went to Belleville, Ill., to deliver a Bible lecture. Upon his return, he took the girl to the home of a sister, Mrs. Daisy Smith, in St. Louis.

"There was no immorality involved," Dake told interviewers. "I wanted to help her get a job in St. Louis, that was all."

The chairman indicated a definite decision on the question of contempt action "within the next day or two."

Bell then called Albert G. Hart, instructor in economics at Chicago University, who with other faculty members made a study of Townsend's plan for a transactions tax to raise funds for payment of $200 monthly pensions to the aged.

Hart testified he believed the estimate of the volume of transactions had been overstated by Townsendites in support of their program.

BOY SCOUTS

PLAN NORTH SIDE PACK

A meeting of parents of boys on the north side will be held at the Clyde Emmert home tonight to perfect plans for the organization of a Northside Cub Pack. Harold G. Boltz said this morning.

EVERYDAY LIVING ON THE PHONE
By Joseph Fort Newton

“MERCY, how I hate the telephone,” a woman writes me. “Of course, it is useful, but there is something so inhuman about it.”

“One puts through a call, and hears the dreary buzz-buzz that betokens a ringing at the other end. Then there is no reply, and one is up against a blank wall of worse than silence. It is simply awful.”

“Or, having got through, one is told that so-and-so is out, or engaged. Again, there is no appeal, and one is left with a helpless, foolish feeling. It's not the fault of the phone, but I cordially hate it.”

“One ought to be grateful for a phone in ordering groceries, calling a doctor, or the police, or the firemen; and at long distance it is uncanny in bridging space and bringing far off friends near to us.”

“But it distorts voices. It hides faces which mean so much. It is not only what people say, but their expression when they say it. Tones alone do not tell the story, or give the interpretation.”

“Besides, it seems that a malignant fate always cuts me off in the middle of a good talk. Altogether, the cold, unfriendliness of it makes me abrupt and spoils the warm intimacy of friendship.”

“Often one has the same feeling in praying—a lost, helpless feeling as if there is no one at the other end. It's my fault, no doubt, or I may have dialed wrongly, so there is no connection, or a bad one.”

“Or, maybe I cut myself off because I am in a hurry, or because I am distracted by other thoughts. Yet some days the connection seems perfect, and no thought of it distracts or distorts my praying.”

“Ah, yes. Many are the trials of trying to reach our friends—even the best friend of all—in a world of imperfect connections, where a little thing can often mar fellowship, or a bad mood spoil it.”

“Even so, however we may hate the telephone, however often our prayers seem to be beating against a blank space, yet we continue to dial the necessary numbers, despite errors, and have our say.”

Happy is the man who has a clear wire to the Best of all Friends.

Women Voters to Urge Civil Service Plank in Platform

Illinois delegates to the national convention of the political parties in June will be approached by local members of the Illinois League of Women Voters to urge a civil service plank in their party platforms, Mrs. Frank P. Hixon, President of the Illinois League of Women Voters, announced today.

The League's proposed plank calls for party promises to get rid of the patronage system because it is “a party liability and weakens faith in government.” Copies of the suggested plank have been sent from National League headquarters to James A. Farley and Henry P. Fletcher, Democratic and Republican national chairmen, for reference to their platform makers.

Drafting of the plank has been under the direction of a special committee consisting of Mrs. Roscoe Anderson, St. Louis, chairman; Mrs. Robert A. Taft, Cincinnati, Ohio, and Mrs. Paul Eliel, Berkeley, California.

The League's plank would commit the political parties to specific types of legislation. Principal among the recommendations are “immediate legislation” to place first, second and third class postmasters, deputy collectors of internal revenue and United States marshals under civil service, and also repeal of laws discriminatory of marital or economic status or residence against otherwise qualified people.

The League will send delegations to each convention to seek a hearing before the resolutions committees. Preliminary work to acquaint delegates and alternates with the League's plank will be inaugurated this week by state and local League leaders.

In restricting its platform pledge appeal to the subject of public personnel, the League is pursuing the objectives of its special national campaign for more qualified personnel government. In its history of appearances before platform-making committees, this is the first time the League has directed its efforts to one plank only.

The League's suggested plank follows: “Believing that the patronage system of appointment to public office is a party liability and weakens faith in government, we therefore pledge that the Party will take steps to abolish the spoils system and to establish the merit system throughout the public service, federal, state and local.”

“We advocate immediate legislation to place in the classified service postmasters of the first, second and third class, deputy collectors of internal revenue, and United States marshals.”

“We specifically advocate further extension of the merit system by transferring exempt positions to the classified service as rapidly as practicable and allowing no further exemptions.”

“We advocate the strengthening of laws and regulations affecting conditions of employment in the Federal Civil Service such as recruitment, educational facilities, retention, promotion, dismissal and retirement. We urge repeal of laws that discriminate on the basis of marital or economic status or residence against otherwise qualified people.”

“We believe that with adequate appropriations, effective administration, and with such extensions and improvements as are promised in this platform, public service will take on a dignity and importance which will attract the ablest citizens and give to the best qualified men and women the opportunity for a career of high patriotic service.”

ROYAL NEIGHBORS TO MEET THURSDAY EVENING—

Two Golden Wedding Anniversaries Beautifully Celebrated

By Kathryn Keagy

Polo.—The golden weddings of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Schreiner and Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Michael were celebrated Sunday, May 24 at the Schreiner church west of Brookville. The anniversary was May 20, but was celebrated May 24.

John P. Schreiner and Miss L. Shiro and Charles R. Michael and Miss Melinda Schreiner were married at the Peter Schreiner home, May 20, 1886 by Rev. William Huelster, presiding elder of Freeport. Twenty-five guests attended this ceremony and 17 of the 25 were present at the golden wedding as follows: Mrs. Ellen (Michael) Geist, Mrs. Della (Michael) Gibbs, Samuel Michael of Brookville, Mrs. Hannah (Michael) Scharer, Mrs. Lillie (Wooden) Schreiner, Mrs. Pousa (Schreiner) Traut, Mrs. Rosie (Schreiner) Bloyer and Henry Shelp of Lanark, Mrs. Lillie (Myers) Flora of Forreston, Mrs. Gertrude (Moyer) Hugh and Albert Schreiner of Milledgeville, Rev. E. K. Yeakel, Mrs. Alice (Moyer) Frey of Polo and the brides and grooms of 50 years ago. One hundred guests were in attendance at the reception Sunday.

The brides and grooms and guests of 50 years ago were seated at a beautifully decorated table, the centerpiece of which was a large angel food cake, decorated with gold colored roses and a miniature bride and groom. Golden tapers also adorned the table, and the place cards were a miniature bride and groom. Following the dinner a program was given, B.

Numerous other gifts, cards, letters, telegrams and flowers were received. Miss Mary Northy of Shannon, who is 83 years old and Rev. J. H. Johnson of Ashton, who is past 80 years old, were the oldest guests present. Following the program, ice cream and cake were served.

Niebergall-Krenz Wedding an Event in Earlville

(Telegraph Special Service)

Paw Paw, May 27.—Miss Erna Niebergall, popular young lady of Paw Paw and Gilbert Krenz of Mendota were married May 21 at 11 o'clock at the Lutheran church in Earlville, Rev. Boebel officiating. Dorothy Martin, close friend of the bride acted as bridesmaid and William Browning of Paw Paw as best man. The charming bride was attired in a blue mouseline de soie dress with white accessories and corsage of tea roses. The bridesmaid wore a pale pink taffeta with white accessories and wore a corsage of sweet peas.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Niebergall and attended school and grew to womanhood here in Paw Paw. The groom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Krenz of Mendota. After the ceremony, the party drove to LaSalle where a delicious dinner was served at the Hotel Francis. The newlyweds will reside in St. Charles, Ill. where the groom is employed by the Aperadio Manufacturing company. They will reside at 701 Sixth avenue, St. Charles and left immediately for their new home. Their many Paw Paw friends extend congratulations.

Sterling Girl to Wed Dixon Man

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Struckman of Sterling announce the engagement of their daughter De Liras-mae, to Lloyd Breisch, son of Mrs. Charlotte Breisch of Rock Falls. The wedding will be an event of the early fall. Miss Struckman is a graduate of Sterling township high school in '34. Mr. Breisch is a former Dixon young man and was graduated from Dixon high school in '31.

The wedding is to be an event of the early autumn.

Miss Countryman to Wed Next August

The engagement of Miss Elisabeth Countryman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emory Countryman of this city, and Herbert E. Voelker of Milwaukee, was announced last evening at a bridge dinner for twenty guests given by Mr. and Mrs. Countryman, at their home.

Spring flowers in lovely pastel shades harmonized with the attractive decorations.

The engagement was made known in a very clever manner as the guests started to play bridge following the dinner. The announcement was found on the ace of hearts in the deck at the first table. The wedding date is set for August 5th. Miss Countryman is a very charming and talented young woman.

Favors at bridge were awarded to Mrs. C. B. Lindell, first; Miss Ruth Kerz, second; and Miss Ethel Jamison, third.

Phidian Members Enjoy Tour to The Near East

The journey to the Near East for the members of the Phidian Art club reached its culmination yesterday when the final program was presented by Miss Winifred Smeaton, noted young archeologist of Ann Arbor, Mich., at the McNichols home, 916 East Fellows street. Miss Smeaton's talk was most spontaneous, since it was placed on her personal observances while living in the Arab household of a government official of Iran for a period of years.

She said fiction and history, both tend to give false impressions of the present day life in the countries of the Near East. In reality it is decidedly European—in a state of maladjustment, attempting to combine the old with the new.

Much of Miss Smeaton's talk was illustrated and the pictures seemed to be a sort of visual summary of subjects covered in the year's study.

A brief business meeting preceded the talk at which time the president, Mrs. Harry Edwards called for reports from the Art Exhibit chairman, Mrs. W. A. McNichols and the philanthropic committee of which Mrs. George Dixon is chairman.

At the close of the afternoon delicious refreshments were served in the dining room. Mrs. E. D. Alexander and Mrs. W. C. Duikes were the gracious pourers. During the social hour, the guests roamed about admiring the new home of Dr. and Mrs. McNichols.

SOCIALISTS PLAY WITH GHOST

Socialists have been playing with the ghost of their party in national convention in Cleveland.

Its flesh, blood and bones have been taken over by Franklin D. Roosevelt, Mrs. Roosevelt, Rex Tugwell and their associates, who have set it up in business in Washington.

George N. Peek describes the processes in his second articles in the Saturday Evening Post.

Socialists who convened in Cleveland, dispossessed as they were, split as rights and lefts and the lefts won as usual. They nominated the Rev. Norman Thomas again for the presidency. In the socialist party it appears that if you get the nomination once you get it for life or until you get in jail. Eugene Debs was the regular nominee until he got mixed up with the laws of his country during the war, and thereafter he was handicapped somewhat.

Roosevelt forgot the democratic platform, which he committed himself to 100 per cent for campaign purposes, and then began a course of putting into effect the platform of Thomas and his socialists, item by item.

ENDORSEMENT OF KNOX

Col. Frank Knox, who received a substantial majority in the Illinois presidential preference primary, was accorded an endorsement by the republican state convention in Peoria and the eight delegates at large were instructed to work for his nomination at the hands of the national convention in Cleveland.

While there was some opposition from an element in Chicago, it did not publicly appear what was desired unless it was that the presidential state primary results be ignored and the state be parceled out on a district basis.

The convention did not assume to give any instructions to the district delegates, the primary law defining their responsibility.

Inasmuch as the objectors to the convention action were from the element that foisted upon us the statewide presidential primary, it is in the fitness of things that this element should accept the statewide results, and those results were the plurality of Colonel Knox.
It was in accord with the fitness of things, that if we are going to continue with this monstrosity of a presidential primary, then those who want it should abide by its results.

Those who contend that it is useless are the only ones who consistently can oppose acceptance of its results.

The primary contest was fairly fought. It was a straight-out affair between two men. One of them carried the state by 75,000 and the convention recognized that state-wide endorsement.

PRICE-FIXING KNOCKED DOWN

The Illinois appellate court administered a blow to the contention that a court of equity has power to fix prices for the Cleaning and Dyeing Plant Owners' Association of Chicago.

In rendering its decision, the court quoted the United States supreme court's opinion in the case involving NRA.

Judge Benjamin P. Epstein, sitting in the circuit court, undertook to fix certain minimum prices for cleaning of dresses and suits, the prices varying according to whether the articles were called for or delivered. Although NRA with all its price-fixing fringes had broken down at the time, there still were persons who thought the government or the state or somebody could step in and regulate private business and the prices to be charged. The Chicago judge carried on a sort of an NRA and set about fixing the prices. He ordered an injunction to be issued restraining twenty-two independent concerns from varying from the price schedule fixed.

"The right to follow any of the common occupations of life is an inalienable right," said the appellate court's holding. That is one of the things we have been fighting for and we had to fight with all the life that was in us—until the supreme court said that nothing had happened to change or to deprive us of such rights. It said in effect, "They can't take those rights away from you."

They were telling men they couldn't go into the ice business or the coal hauling business or the theater business unless they got the consent of the men already in that business. Such nonsense! And they had hundreds of us panicky enough to let them tell us that and to make it stick. Many thanks for the supreme court.

This Chicago hangover was made of the same cloth, but where a judge got the idea that he could fix prices for all who came to him with complaints about their competitors, we can not guess. One of them even fined a company $3000 and sentenced the president of it to jail for sixty days. But the appellate court set both penalties aside.

"Extraordinary conditions do not create or enlarge constitutional power," the court quoted from the opinion of the supreme court of the United States in the NRA case. "Those who act under these grants are not at liberty to transcend the imposed limits because they believe that more or different power is necessary."

It quoted from another decision thus:
"No common law right has been more firmly established or more treasured than the right of the individual to sell his goods or his services at whatever price he and his purchaser agree upon."

The appellate court then reasoned as follows:
"Competition is not of itself a violation of any right of one engaged in a like business. The life of a business enterprise is the sale of its products by encouraging large sales. The profits will depend largely upon the methods employed and the necessary expense in carrying on the business."

The federal trade commission was created to eliminate fraudulent practices, and it was empowered to issue orders to cease and desist. Misbranding, improper labeling, misrepresentative advertising are established as unfair practices which the trade commission may act upon.

It is a jump of considerable distance from that point to the position assumed by the Chicago judges.

In our opinion the appellate court's decision is a healthful sign.

THE TINYMITES

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

The Tinymites were soaking wet, and Doty said, "We'd better get some wood and build a little fire, so we can dry our clothes."
"Gee, if we don't we may catch cold. We're lucky, tots, the way we rolled up on the beach. I'm glad that we are safe, now, goodness knows."

"How do you know we're safe and sound? We won't know till we've looked around," said Doty.
"Let's explore a bit and see what we can find."
"Of course, first we will build the fire. To get dried out is my desire. I'll find a spot. You tots can get the wood, if you don't mind."

Fair Goldy said, "Well, it's too bad about you. You're a lazy lad.
However, let's not argue. I am getting chilled, right now."
"We'll gather wood and pile it high, and then to light it you can try. There is no sense in standing here and trying to start a row."
In about a half an hour they stood around the blaze. It felt real good. "Be careful, now, don't get too close," brave Coppy loudly cried.

"The heat will dry us, standing back. Real common sense we all will lack if we get careless. I don't want the flames to singe my hide."

All of a sudden Windy said,
"Why, look! There is a hut ahead.
And there's a funny-looking bird.
Let's ask him who lives there."

They rushed up to the bird and cried, "Whose place is this? Who is inside?" "A friendly man," the bird said. "There is no need for a scare."

"Just ring the bell above the door. You see, that's what it's up there for. You shortly will see someone who is fond of girls and boys."

"Okay," said Scouty. "I will ring the bell, to see what it will bring." The minute that he pulled the chord, the bell made lots of noise.

DAILY HEALTH

THE ASTHMATIC

Those suffering from asthma are inclined to subscribe to the general belief that "once asthmatic always an asthmatic." This generalization is true only in part, for with modern treatment about 20 per cent of patients can be completely relieved of their asthma for some years. Fifteen to 20 per cent are absolutely resistant to treatment. The remaining patients can be helped, though they cannot be relieved entirely of their attacks.

The asthmatic sufferer should realize that if the physician cannot cure his malady, the patient can at least learn to live with it. If the attacks cannot be entirely eliminated, they can be reduced in severity. By attention to his personal hygiene, the patient also can reduce the frequency of his asthmatic attacks.

In his personal hygiene, the patient should avoid overloading his stomach and his large intestine. He should avoid exposure to, and contact with animal and vegetable dusts. Foci of infection about his teeth, tonsils, head sinuses and nose should be removed. If, in treatment, it is discovered that the sufferer is sensitive to pollens (the germ cells of plants) or to such other common agents as tobacco,orris root (a common ingredient of face powder), etc., he should scrupulously avoid contact with these agents, or should

Cost of Proposed School Program Explained Today by Board of Education

Total and Individual Figures Presented Here

PART I

In this article an explanation will be given of the cost of the school program advocated by the Board of Education and upon which an election will be held on June 2nd. First the cost in total figures and second the cost to the individual voter.

There is some question as to whether a building adequate for the needs of over 450 children can be built and equipped and a site purchased for $175,000.00. The Board has decided, however, that the cost must be kept within this figure and we believe it can be by using the equipment in the old building and by continuing the use of the Woodward and Truman schools, if necessary. The building will be so designed that additional rooms can be added while school is in session, if necessary. The site proposed has a frontage of over 500 feet on Lincoln Avenue, 150 feet on Fourth street, 400 feet on Douglas Avenue, and 300 feet on Sixth street. It contains 3.45 acres, or about 1 2-3 blocks, which is none too much for the number of children the building will have to accommodate. There is a sewer outlet on Fourth street, and the tract is paved on two sides. The estimated price, $450,000.00, is the limit the Board can pay and represents an average cost of $225.00 each for the twenty lots included. All special assessments will be paid by the present owners.

The bonds which will be sold to cover the cost of the site and building cannot be paid until after the bonds have been paid. The last of these will mature in 1950 so that the proposed issue will mature between 1951 and 1955. The only added cost at this time, therefore, is the annual interest charge of $6,125.00, plus five or six additional teachers, two of which will be kindergarten teachers for children who are not now able to attend kindergarten because of the distance. There should be very little, if any, added operating expense for light, fuel, supplies or janitors. Fire insurance will be carried, but the rate will be lower because of the fireproof construction of the building.

To relieve congestion in rooms now over-crowded, to furnish teachers for "ungraded" rooms, to supply additional high school teachers, penmanship supervisor, high school nurse, and physical training instructors, a total of 12 additional teachers are needed. Their salaries will aggregate approximately $18,000.00.

A summary of the cost is as follows:

1. Interest on $175,000 bonds	$ 6,125.00
Salaries of four additional elementary and two kindergarten teachers for new grade school	6,500.00
Estimated annual additional overhead in new building	2,000.00
Total estimated annual cost of financing and operating new building	$14,725.00
2. Cost of adding 12 new teachers, supervisors, nurse, etc.	$18,500.00
3. Cost of restoring 1932 salary schedule	7,000.00
	$40,325.00

To raise this amount on an assessed valuation of $10,802,281.00 an increase of 40c in the school tax rate will be required, and this is the amount that will be submitted to a vote at the election. The first proposition on the ballot will submit the question of an increase of 15 cents in the building levy, and the second proposition will submit the question of an increase of 25 cents in the educational levy. In other words, the increase requested is the amount needed, and no more.

If the increase is granted, the annual school tax levy will be $1.77 1/2, instead of $1.37 1/2. This will be less than the school levy in many neighboring cities. The following list will illustrate:

Freeport	$1.50
Mendota	2.13
Moline	2.13
Ottawa	2.34
Rochelle	2.30
Rock Falls	2.92
Rockford	1.95
Streamers	2.22
Sterling No. 10	1.97
Sterling No. 11	1.82
Savanna	2.41
Woodstock	2.25
Whetstone	3.37

The cost of the increase to the individual taxpayer may easily be computed. This year's total tax rate in the City of Dixon is $3.41 on each $100.00 of assessed valuation. If the rate is increased to $3.81, next year's tax will be 11.7 per cent higher. If this year's tax is $34.10, next year's amount will be $38.10 (assuming there are no changes in the balance of the tax items). If this year's tax is $50.00, next year's tax will be 11.7 higher, or $55.85. If this year's tax is $100.00, next year's amount will be $111.70.

or a little less than a dollar a month increase.

Application has been made for a Federal grant of 45 per cent to aid in the cost of the project, and while word has been received that no funds are available at the present time, assurance has been given that the application will receive favorable consideration if additional funds are allocated.

The Board wishes to emphasize two facts. The first is that the proposed increase in the annual levy is not necessary because of the completion of the high school auditorium, and the second is that the additional funds are not needed to pay back indebtedness. All current bills of the District are paid, and we are not indebted to the banks, unless they happen to own some of the high school bonds. All bonds and interest have been paid when due.

Conclusion

The responsibility of determining the educational facilities of more than 2200 children—one-fifth of the population of Dixon—is a heavy one, and the members of the Board appreciate it. Any change that involves an increase in the general tax rate is also a serious responsibility. The foregoing plan has been adopted by the Board only after a great deal of careful study. The members believe that the results to be accomplished justify the expense involved. They feel that their good faith is proven by the fact that none of them have children who will attend school in the proposed new building, while each of them will be obliged to bear a substantial part of the cost. They unanimously endorse each of the propositions that will appear on the ballot, and urge their adoption.

HARMON NEWS

By Margaret Anderson
HARMON—Father David Murphy pastor of St. Plannens Catholic church will leave soon on a four week's vacation. The ones in the parish who has to call a priest, will be, the people on the west side will call St. Mary's church in Sterling and on the east side will call St. Patrick's church in Dixon. HOME BARBECUE WINS HONOR FOR YOUNG HOSTESS

The girl in the crowd who can serve good barbecues will find her home the most popular gathering place in town. Not only will her friends frequent her house but when it comes time to portion out assignments for food to prepare for picnics, or Dutch suppers, barbecues will be at the head of the list. Why not try your hand at preparing a barbecue and see if these predictions are true?

The meat need not be one of the more popular cuts. In fact, spare ribs or country style backbones do very nicely for a barbecue and are found among the less demanded cuts. It is also nice to know that price is no criterion for determining the food value of meat, for there is just as much and as good protein, as many minerals, and as many vitamins, and calories in the less demanded cuts as in the more demanded ones.

This recipe for barbecued ribs is unexcelled.

Barbecued Ribs.

Country-style backbones or spare ribs.
2 tablespoons melted butter
1 medium onion, sliced
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons brown sugar
6 tablespoons lemon juice
1 small bottle catsup
1/2 tablespoon dry mustard
1 cup water
1/2 cup chopped celery
Salt and red pepper
3 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce

Melt butter and brown onion. Add remaining ingredients and allow to simmer one hour. Brown country-style backbones or spare ribs in oven. Cover with barbecue sauce and cook uncovered in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until tender.

Barbecuing is not, however, confined to pork, but is just as good when applied to beef.

Small Barbecue

Select two pieces or round steak cut 2 inches thick. Combine 1/2 cup salad sauce, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1/4 teaspoon onion salt, 1/2 teaspoon celery seed, 2 whole black peppercorns, and 2 whole allspice. Heat thoroughly to mix flavors. Cool. Pour sauce over the meat and allow to stand three hours or over night if desired. Remove meat from sauce and brown on both sides in a little fat in a hot frying pan. Pour the sauce over the meat, cover closely and cook slowly for about 30 to 40 minutes until tender.

A more economical barbecue is the following:

Barbecued Short Ribs

3 pounds short ribs
2 onions
1/2 cup catsup
1 tablespoon sugar
1 tablespoon vinegar
1/4 teaspoon tobacco sauce
1-8 teaspoon chili powder
1 cup water
Salt
Pepper

Put the short ribs in the bottom of a baking dish. Season with salt and pepper and cover with a thin layer of onion slices. Combine the catsup, tobacco sauce, chili powder, sugar, vinegar and water and pour half this sauce over the meat and onions. Add the second layer of short ribs, sliced onions and sauce. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until done, about one hour. Serve with special baked potatoes, mashing, seasoning, returning to shell and browning.

Playmates' Quarrels May Be Only in Fun

By Olive Roberts Barton

Watch two puppies play. Then watch two small boys. There is little to be done about it. They're just that way.

Our dear little Jerome and someone's just-as-nice Archibald, all slicked and pinky perfect as Raphael's angels, get together after their laps and baths, out on the sidewalk.

Our Jerome has been so sweet. He raised his big blue eyes to ours, not an hour ago, and said, "I like you, mummy. Do you like me today? I like everybody." We squeezed him hard and made a mental note to save that up for dad. Was there ever such a sweet, serious precious child? So old beyond his years and even uttering epigrams that astound the family. Actually he is too perfect. Something tugs inside us. Can such a perfect child live long? "Oh, dear father, wait over our little Jerome. Let not he wolves get him; he is so trusting and tender."

Then out comes Jerome and up comes Archibald, still damp from his own mama's kisses and hair tonic.

Challenge Accepted

Says Jerome: "I'm bigger 'n you."

Retorts Archibald: "You are not. You're a siss."

"Go on hose."

"I won't. I'll stand right on this place and you can't move me."

Jerome's is the swift. Archy's shin is tender. He strikes out and Jerome's nose stops the two and a half-inch fist.

They clinch and roll in the mud. Down at the corner Tony has taken a stand. He turns a handle of his barrel organ, and suddenly the pride of his heart the only new niece he has bought in years, booms out "Da, da, da; da; da; da; a ree, waves and an oomp."

Two small figures race. They hang around Tony and crane their necks to see the parrot.

"I know that piece," boasts Archibald.

"So do I," says Jerome. "We have it on our radio."

"Ain't it funny?"

They both laugh. After a while Tony trundles away.

"I'll beat you home."

They both tar. They forget to notice who wins.

"Let's get our wagons."

Defender Boomes Aggressor.

"Well make strain." Much fussing and panting and project is finished, for a wonder. Archibald up and produce his papers as engineer. Jerome giggles the train so that it upsets. Archy says, "Darn you," and glances anxiously toward the house. This time it is A. who kicks and J. who is by a nose. Then they see a dog.

"Here, doggie nice doggie. Yuh, yuh!"

"I wish I had a dog."

"I do, too. It's a-a-crocker."

"No, he's a saniel."

"Boys, boys, it's supper time. Come in, Jew, dear."

Inside wagsay. "Jerry, I don't like Archibald. He's too rough. He abuses you."

And next door the same thing is happening, names reversed.

And both little boys declare, "Why, we weren't fightin'! We were just fooling. Jerome (Archy is my friend."

In half an hour there is an In-

Too Many Beauty Aids May Defeat End One Desires

By ALICIA HART

NEA Service Staff Writer

Just as too many accessories—even though they are handsome ones—spoil the well-groomed effect for which you strive, too great a collection of attention-getting beauty aids, worn at one time, makes you look haphazardly turned out instead of neat and trim.

The woman who start out wearing long, artificial eyelashes, an intricate coiffure, a black beauty spot on cheek or chin and scarlet nails impresses others in much the same way as one who dresses up a frock with beads, earrings, bracelets, a mesh collar and jeweled belt.

The easiest way to solve the problem of what to put on and what to leave off is to decide first of all just which feature or which part of your face you wish to dramatize. If you have nice eyes, make them up as much as you like, wear an off-the-brow hair-dress and don't use enough rouge and lipstick to draw attention away from your eyes.

If you have a beautiful mouth and chin, forget about mascara and eyeshadow and concentrate on learning now to apply lipstick to accentuate your mouth. Girls with lovely ears are the ones who should wear their hair off the face and go in for earrings.

Broad faces look less wide if hair is parted in the center. Long ones, and long noses too, look shorter if the hair is done with a side part. If you have a well-shaped head, wear your hair flat across the back. Incidentally, ringlet curls, unless they are pinned down smoothly, don't lend themselves well to large faces, whether round or oval. Leave these girls with rather small features.

Unless your hands are truly pretty better wear neutral polish on your nails. Vivid tones attract attention to your hands, of course.

BOY SCOUTS

Twenty Scout leaders, Scoutmasters, committeemen, and commissioners attended a supper meeting of Lee county leaders at Ashton Monday evening at which time the suggested 1936 Lee county budget was presented and plans for summer camporees outlined.

Progress of the troops in Lee county was illustrated on a chart prepared by Harold G. Boltz, field executive of Lee and Ogle counties, and A. A. Stocker, Scout executive of the Blackhawk Council spoke on the financial problems of the Council.

Announcement of a pioneer summer troop camporee for Lee and Ogle county troops in the wild country around Lost Nation was made by Stocker at the meeting.

The site has been procured and announcements of the camporee date will be made later. The Lost Nation wilderness is one of the most primeval sections of wooded country remaining in Illinois and is ideally situated for a camporee conducted on the most primitive scale, affording genuine camping experience to all troops participating.

During a recent period of 12 months, the Tower Bridge of London was opened 5147 times, to permit passage of shipping.

POLO NEWS

By Kathryn Keagy

Polo.—The Boy Scouts and former Scouts and Girl Scouts are asked to meet at the Scout room Thursday evening at 6:30 and go from there to the grave of William Durley where a service will be held. A. Stocker of Rockford will speak. The grave of Mr. Durley is located on the C. B. Noble farm, northeast of Polo. This place is historic ground and is known as the old Winter's place, where the first tragedy of the Black Hawk war occurred within the limits of what is now Ogle county.

It was in the spring of 1832 when a party of Indians made an attack on the settlers, that William Durley, a rough, venturesome fellow undertook to make a short cut through the grove at the Winter's place in spite of the warning of his friends. His body was found upon the following day and buried where he lay. A monument now marks his grave and the Scouts will decorate the grave following Mr. Stocker's address.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. John Reid, Monday, May 25, a seven pound daughter.

Robert Stouffer submitted to an appendectomy at the Katherine Shaw Betha hospital in Dixon on Sunday.

AUTOS GIVEN FINAL CHECK BEFORE RACE

Auto Races Are Won Or Lost Often in Garage

Indianapolis, May 27.—(AP)—The story is more than half told before the slender stream-lined racing cars ever take the track at the Indianapolis motor speedway for the 500 mile race Memorial Day, May 30.

Probably few of the 150,000 who crowd the big racing enclosure each year realize the months of research, the careful work, the painstaking checking of each part which has been necessary to send the machines on the track ready for a 500 mile whirl at high speed around the rough 2½ mile brick track. Many will tell you most races are won or lost in the garage.

Put on your hat, and let's take a walk up and down gasoline alley and through the garages inside the track where the cars are given their final checks and conditioned as carefully as ever was a Cavalier of Bold Venture for a Kentucky Derby.

Each Part Tested

First there's the magnaflo machine, in which each vital part is tested—has to be tested under track rules—for defects which no other known method of determination can find. In the inky bath of the magnaflo cracks show up that the eye never could find, nor the x-ray.

Once past that test the parts are assembled, oftentimes by the man who designed and built the engine and now acts as its chief mechanic.

Assembled, the car is driven onto a raised platform where experts align the wheels to a fraction of an inch. Previously the wheels have been checked on a hand or dynamic wheel balancer until they turn at terrific speed without a trace of sway to one side or the other.

From the wheel alignment platform the car is rolled down to the testing machine where brakes are tested so there will be no lateral slide when the brakes are pulled on.

Final Test

Then comes the final test—the tires, once the bugaboo of every driver, now hardly given a thought because of advances in tire design and construction. Once past the tire station the car is ready to go and is wheeled from there to the track.

The cars are completely torn down at least four or five times during the final week or two of tests and every part is checked. The final checkup comes after the qualifying trials, the final two days of which start this afternoon at 4 P. M. (Central Standard Time) with four places still open in the starting field of 33 and eight or more cars ready to fight it out for those.

BRITISH GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP TO STAY HOME

St. Andrews, Scotland, May 27.—(AP)—The British amateur golf championship became a strictly domestic affair today as the last two American survivors, Theodore Basset of Rye, N. Y. and Douglas Grant, a former New Yorker living in England, passed from the tournament.

Basset was scratched from the list when he failed to appear on the tee for his third round match. He drew a first-round bye and gained the second round by default. He was regarded as somewhat of a mystery man because authorities disclosed they had not seen him since the championship started Monday.

Grant, who reached the semi-final round of the championship 13 years ago, was eliminated by P. W. L. Risdon 6 and 5 in a third round encounter.

Bucking a cold howling north wind, blowing in from the sea, Cyril Tolley, one of Britain's best contenders, narrowly escaped downfall at the hands of S. B. Roberts. Roberts carried Tolley to the 19th hole before yielding.

The players were notified to the ears as the dwindling field of 12 started out on the third and fourth-round matches.

Dixon CC Golfers to Play Morrison Here Tomorrow

Morrison Country Club golfers will be guests of the male members of the Dixon Country Club in an interclub match on the local greens tomorrow afternoon, play to start at 1:30. All members of the Dixon club are asked to take part in this event, which will be

NELSON CARDS RAP PANTHERS

Dixon Nine Suffers First Reverse By 6 to 4 Count

Nelson handed the Dixon Panthers their first reverse of the season 6 to 4 at Nelson.

The Panther battery commenced the game with A. Whitebread on the mound and Wolford receiving. The Cards had no trouble finding Whitebread's delivery for five hits in two and one-third innings which was good enough for three runs.

Flanagan then assumed the mound duties and kept the situation well under control, but weak hitting back of him failed to allow him a victory.

Origiesen, Nelson's pitcher, limited the Panthers to seven scattered hits in nine frames. The only trouble he encountered was a determined rally in the ninth, but Cruthoff failed to deliver when two men were in scoring position by topping a slow roller to first base.

The Panthers will play the Cards again Memorial Day at Reynolds park here, determined to avenge the defeat. The game begins at 2 P. M. promptly.

Finalists in Olympic Trials Are Engaged to Fight Here Thursday

Peterson, Lottman Match Among the Feature Bouts

Considerable interest is attached to the revival of boxing at the Dixon airport this summer, the first card having been scheduled for 8:30 P. M. Thursday, it being a seven bout affair.

The airport hangar has proven an ideal place for boxing in the summer time. It is well ventilated, holds large crowds and is cool enough for comfort even on the hottest nights. It is hoped a good opening crowd will hearten promoters for the initial bouts in which the Davenport, Ia., C. Y. O. boxing team will battle picked fighters from the Dixon vicinity.

Three 5 Round Bouts

At least three of the bouts will be five rounds in length. The Stunkle boys prefer five round bouts and Louis Viscioni, Moline Mauler, has also signified his preference for five round battles. Maurice Stunkle, weighing around 147 pounds is paired with Pete Hantz for a five-rounder, and Bernie Stunkle, his platinum blond brother will take on Eddie Dempsey in the featherweight division, this bout also to go five rounds. Viscioni is matched with Walt Warmich of Peoria. Warmich is the only negro battler on Thursday night's card.

The feature match of the evening will pair Kenny Lottman and Bud Peterson, the former a flyweight from Peoria weighing 112 pounds. Golden Gloves honors have leaned Peterson's way at Davenport, and he was also recipient of Olympics trials honors reaching the finals in these events.

Other promising bouts will match Kid Loan of Ohio against a Mexican youth, Henry Puente, while Roy Akertidge of Rock Falls meets Frank Lopez. The first of these two bouts is in the 130 lb. class and the second is at 155 lb. George Nelson from Chicago will tangle with the gangling arms and legs of Sam Karben.

ALWAYS THREAT

Although he never has finished in the money, Al Miller, one of the two Detroit Millers entered in the 500-mile Memorial Day auto race at Indianapolis, is one of those nifty drivers everyone fears. Al, a former newspaper engraver, finished sixth in 1934. He'll be driving one of Mike Boyle's entries May 30.

HAYNES MEETS PRIMO CARNERA EBBETS FIELD

Hopes To Duplicate Knockout of Big Ambling Alp

New York, May 27.—(AP)—LeRoy Haynes of Philadelphia, the No. 2 "dark menace" of the heavyweights, rings up the curtain on the outdoor boxing season at Ebbets field tonight and at the same time he hopes to ring it down on ponderous Primo Carnera.

Haynes knocked out the veteran Italian at Philadelphia in two rounds, establishing the official Carnera knockout record in March and now he is out to prove to metropolitan fans that it wasn't a fluke. Carnera, sometimes known as "Old Satch," aims to show that it's really more of a task to topple him off his ample feet than recent developments have indicated.

Primo is slated to start a European tour soon and his friends say that unless he succeeds in whipping Haynes, or at least remaining upright, he will travel right into retirement from American rings.

The supporting card will include plenty of heavyweight poundage as 46 rounds are scheduled for the entertainment of an expected crowd of 25,000. Steve Dudas of Edgewater, N. J., tangles with Izzy Garganaga, the big Spaniard, in one of the ten round preliminaries and Abe Feldman meets another New Yorker, Ralph Barbara in the other.

FRISCH HAPPY OVER NEW FIND FOR PITCHING

Winford's Two Hit Performance Is Impressive

BY SID FEDER

Associated Press Sports Writer.
Manager Frankie Frisch was wearing a big grin today over a pitching discovery that may be just what the doctor ordered to round out his staff of St. Louis Cardinals "varsity" hurlers.

Since the season opened, he has depended on the Dean boys, "Wild Bill" Hallahan, Roy Parmelee and Bill Walker as his starting set, but doubleheaders are piling up just ahead.

Jim Winford, 26-year-old right hander imported late last year from the Columbus Red Birds, may furnish help. Winford started against the Pittsburgh Pirates in the nightcap of a twin bill yesterday after Dizzy Dean had let the Bees down 6-2 in the opened, and the newcomer came through with a two-hit performance, while his mates were battling out a 6-2 win.

The double victory pushed the Cards a full game in front of the New York Giants, despite the triumph of the Terrymen over Brooklyn, 7-3, behind Harry Gumbert's seven-hit twirling. It was the fifth straight win for Gumbert.

Red Sox Near Top

In the American league, the diamond-studded Red Sox, aided by Jimmie Foss's 12th homer of the year, pulled up to within half a game of the lead with a 5-4 victory over the Yanks. Bill Dickey, veteran Yankee catcher, collided with Eric McNair in a tight play

Tennis Players Asked To Attend Friday Meeting

All persons interested in the formation of a Dixon tennis team and an elimination tournament for the individual championship of the city, are asked to attend a meeting in the carrier boys' room of the Telegraph office at 7:30 P. M. Friday.

It is planned to hold a tennis tournament beginning about June 17 provided enough interested in game can be induced to enter it. When sufficient names have been received to make the tournament truly representative of Dixon talent the tourney will begin. Further details regarding entrance into the meet will be discussed at the meeting.

From the top flight players picked by their performance in this proposed tournament, the Dixon tennis team will be formed to play representative netters from other towns during the months of July and August.

at the plate, and an x-ray showed a kidney injury which will keep him in the hospital ten days.

Trailing the Yanks and the Sox, the Detroit Tigers managed only a split in a double-bill with the White Sox, dropping the nightcap 2-9 before Sugar Cain's tight pitching, after homers by Goose Goslin and Dixie Walker helped General Alvin Crowder to take the opener 12-9.

Roy Henshaw pitched the Chicago Cubs from sixth to third place in the National league with a 10-4 win over the Reds, despite Kiki Cuyler's homer. The Phils outslugged the Boston Bees 7-2, with Johnny Moore collecting his eighth four-bagger.

The St. Louis Browns came from behind with a four-run rally in the ninth to trounce the Cleveland Indians, 8 to 5, while the Senators had little trouble with

Townsendism Again

By WALTER E. SPAHR

Chairman, Department of Economics, New York University

Sometime ago I pointed out a few of the chief fallacies of the Townsend Plan, over the radio and in two pamphlets, and, as a consequence, my letters from ardent Townsendsites have been voluminous and revealing — many also very nasty, some of them coming from ministers of the gospel! Out of the lot, however, emerge some notions which seem to be rather common to the Townsendsites and which would appear to justify further comment.

They insist that the economists who oppose the Plan are unsympathetic toward the aged. That of course is not a fact. One important thing the Townsendsites seem to forget is that distress and suffering are not confined to those people who are sixty years of age and over. The problems of the suffering and needy apply to the unemployed — young and middle-aged men and women with families dependent upon them; to cases of sickness; to persons incapacitated by accident; to widows and orphans; as well as to aged people with inadequate income.

These are problems calling for a broad program of social insurance. The Federal government has been making strenuous efforts to institute such a program. A commission of experts was put to work to devise the best possible plans and the Social Security Act was the result. This is probably the most difficult type of legislation with which a government can be faced, and the very best experts do not know whether the present plan is altogether wise, or will work well, or whether the taxpayers can carry the load. It is expected that changes will be made as experience points the way.

In the face of these attempts to do the rational thing, it is both absurd and cruel for the Townsendsites to take the position that such large benefits as they urge should go to their restricted group regardless of the fact that many in that group are not in need and regardless of needs elsewhere. The Townsend Plan was not worked out by competent authorities on social insurance, who would certainly do their best to devise a plan that would work, nor was it placed upon any rational basis whatever. It was merely a fantastic inspiration. Nearly every Townsendsite who wrote me challenged my statement that to pay 20 billion dollars per year required by the Townsend Plan would require 40 per cent of the national income, which was estimated at about 50 billion dollars in 1934 (I used the Department of Commerce figures). Some of the writers challenged the income figures; some thought "national income" meant the amount of taxes received by the Federal government! One of the most common statements was that I did not know the difference between a 2 per cent transactions tax and a 40 per cent tax on national income, and that 2 per cent was not 40 per cent, and so on. I tried to point out clearly that one of the difficulties of the Townsend Plan lay in the fact that the Townsendsites had confused a transactions tax with its effect on national income; but the point apparently was not understood by many of them.

I shall try again. The National income is the income of all people of the nation taken collectively and calculated, in general, as are incomes of individuals. It is not the income of the Federal government. No one can pay taxes except out of his income. If the income of all people in a year is 50 billion dollars and the Townsend tax requires 20 billion dollars, this equals 40 per cent of the national income. It makes no difference whether the tax is in the form of income, real estate, or transactions tax.

The manner in which different people and businesses would pay this tax would differ widely. If, for example, a business concern does $1,000,000 of business to get a net income of $200,000, a 2 per cent transactions tax would take all its net income if it had to pay the tax. And every business concern cannot pass it on to every other one. The selling prices of one are the costs of another.

The tax might be squeezed out of an individual in the form of higher prices and the depletion in the purchasing power of his income or by causing him to lose his job and income completely. If, for example, I had an income of $1,000 per year, I would be required, if I bore an average share of the burden, to spend $400 of it to meet the requirements of the Townsend transaction tax. The Townsendsites say 2 per cent on $1,000 means $20, not $400. The point is that were such a tax levied, prices would jump and my $1,000 then would not buy as many goods as otherwise would be the case. No one could tell how much they would jump or what all the maladjustments would be like; but each person who pays the tax will pass it on to his neighbor in higher prices if he can. Or, the resulting decline in production and the consequent relative scarcity of goods, would cause a sharp jump in costs and in prices.

In other words, if such a tax were to be collected, my $1,000 then would not be the same as my $1,000 now. It would be then that the Townsendsites would understand the meaning of the statement that "all taxes are paid out of national income".

Dickey Lost For At Least 10 Days

Boston, May 27—(AP)—Bill Dickey, heavy-hitting catcher, of the league-leading New York Yankees, who collided with Eric McNair, Red Sox shortstop, near home plate in yesterday's baseball game, lay in St. Elizabeth's hospital today, lost to his teammates "for at least ten days."

Hospital attendants said he was "resting comfortably."
Dr. Edward J. O'Brien, Red Sox physician, said X-rays showed Dickey suffered an injury to his left kidney.

We Thank You

We were indeed very much pleased Sunday and Monday over the number of thoughtful friends who called us over the telephone with items. And also to those who brought items to us. As most everyone knows we are a little handicapped in not being able to get out and get the news, and when they are given to us, naturally we do appreciate it. It is only through your kindness and thoughtfulness that we are able to maintain these items at all. The season of the year is here when picnics and outdoor parties will be held nearly every day by someone or group. Kindly remember us with those items. As we have said often we want the news all the time and with your kindly co-operation we believe it can be accomplished. We do sincerely thank you for past favors, and ask for continuation of your helpfulness.

MOTHER'S MELODEON

Today you stand demure in rose-wood dresses. Much scarred by years, but dignified, serene.

In "sixty-one" your tones were a caress.

To her young voice a carefree girl of sixteen.

Recruiting meetings knew your "Tramp, Tramp! Tramp!" Those hero-making, marching tunes and boys.

Where by your music lured to leave for camp.

Where cannon drowned your echo with their noise.

Those weary hearts, knew not the dawn of peace.

Proclaimed by you, but dews and damps of war.

And agony. They prayed that it would cease.

And longed to breathe the air of home once more.

What quiet hymns your muted notes now play!

Un triste souvenir d'une gloire pae.

Leona Canterbury Mandville

Emmett Cemetery

A large crowd was present at the Emmett cemetery Sunday afternoon for the Memorial exercises. Altenberg Post No. 497 of this place assisted in decorating the graves. The Brethren male quartet of this place rendered several numbers. The quartet is composed of Rev. Paul Studebaker, Rev. Frank Wingert, Rev. O. R. Buck and E. R. Buck.

A splendid address was given by Rev. Paul Studebaker of the local Church of the Brethren. The cemetery was very beautiful with lovely bouquets of flowers on all graves.

The Senior Tent Show.

The senior class play, a real success, of Franklin Grove high school, was given at the camp grounds on Friday, May 22. A large crowd attended and they certainly got their money's worth. The play "Hubert the Great" concerned the Curtis tent show. Earl Blekking as Mr. Curtis was a very crooked showman who plotted to keep half the gate receipts of a benefit performance for a poor little blind girl, Effie Millan, played by Pauline Kelly. He tried to involve his leading man, Hal Dean, Bob Wasson, and Hal was found tampering with the ticket box. Because suspicion rested on Hal his sweetheart, Helen Heath, Nelda Fuller, threw him over. Joy Edsel, Lois Gatz, who always had a quotation from Shakespeare or "Uncle Tom's Cabin," to fit every occasion, sided with Helen in her suspicion. The rest of the actors; Marvin Meyers, Roy Warrenfeltz, the comedian who knew just

The Princeton Elms Golf Club was burglarized Friday night. Entrance was gained by the burglars through a window on the north side of the club house. A set of five new irons was taken. Local police are investigating.

DEPARTMENT CALLED TO RURAL FIRE NORTH OF PRINCETON MONDAY

A call was received by the local fire department for aid in quelling a blaze at the tenant house on the J. J. Shugart farm on Monday night. Driver Berry responded to the call with the small truck and chemicals. The house is occupied by Robert Moretz and family and is about 4 1/2 miles north of Princeton on the Dixon road.

LOCAL WOMAN GRANTED DIVORCE IN CIRCUIT COURT ON MONDAY

Hazel McCue of Princeton appeared before Circuit Judge Joe A. Davis on Monday and testified to several acts of cruelty on the part of her husband, Virgil McCue, in support of her complaint for divorce recently filed. She also asked custody of their three children, aged 10, 7 and five months. She also asked alimony and that the court apportion the household goods. McCue appeared with Carey R. Johnson his attorney, and did not deny the charges but testified in regard to his income on the question of alimony. In conclusion Judge Davis granted the divorce, and gave Mrs. McCue cus-ody of the children. He also allowed Mrs. McCue $12.50 per week alimony, together with most of the household goods. McCue was given his restaurant building and fixtures, with which he conducts a restaurant on North Main street. Mrs. McCue was represented by Attorneys J. L. Spalding and Wilson & Johnson of Princeton.

PRINCETON TO PASS ANTI-SPEEDING ORDINANCE FOR MAIN STREET

The City Attorney was instructed to prepare an ordinance regulating the speed of motor vehicles on the streets of Princeton for consideration by the council at the next regular meeting, at the session of the City Dads held Monday night. Commissioner Higgins reported that the drivers were making a race track of Main street and that it was endangering other persons. He reminded the council of the letter from the State Highway Department received last week and the council unanimously decided to curb the speed demons.

The regular meeting was held in the city clerk's office due to the First Aid instruction meeting of the Central Illinois Valley Firemen's Association meeting held in the council chambers. After the approval of the minutes of the last meeting, a plumber's license was granted to J. J. Gray and a cigar license to Warren Jensen. Fire Truck Driver Berry was appointed a special policeman for three months on recommendation of Commissioner Higgins. Mr. Berry is in attendance at the city hall at all times, and he acts as jailer at the city jail, and for this reason needs a commission.

According to Commissioner Higgins the city will begin enforcement of the old ordinance in regard to licensing dogs in the near future. He stated that the problem of disposing of stray dogs is becoming acute and believes that the only way to impress upon the owners the necessity of keeping them off the streets is to make a license fee necessary. After some discussion, it was decided to investigate further and try to find out what the residents of the city wanted done about the matter. In case the city does decide to license, the proceeds will go to the enforcement of the ordinance.

Commissioner Kullmer reported that he hoped to have the fly ash nuisance completely cured by the middle of next week. He said that the city engineer in charge of the job would be here Friday, and that steps were being taken to abate the trouble.

Mayor Avery made a statement in behalf of the council to the newspaper representatives present. He said that since the salaries of some of the city employees had been raised, that dissatisfaction had been created. No further changes will be made in the payrolls, and according to the council, it is a matter of opinion as to what is a fair compensation for the work. The council feels that they are paying the best wages possible under the circumstances, as the entire city income cannot go for wages alone.

The annual appropriation ordinance probably will be ready for passage in a week or two. Mayor Avery stated that due to the fact of having to buy a new boiler and paying cash for it, as well as having unexpected expense at the sewage plant, due to extremely cold weather, the city got in the red during the year. However, by economies, the fiscal year was finished even, and this year, the council will establish a sinking fund for the light plant. The council wishes the public to know that when the appropriation ordinance is passed it will represent a considerable saving over last year. At the present time the city has a credit of about $7000 coming from the gas tax fund, with which it is hoped to finish the Peru street widening, and this, it is thought will save the city that much on relief labor, which it might otherwise have to provide for.

The meeting adjourned on Tuesday, June 2, at 7 o'clock.

C. I. V. FIRE ASSN. HOLDS MEETING AT PRINCETON CITY HALL

The last of a series of First Aid instruction meetings sponsored by State Mine Inspector McGonigal of LaSalle was held at the city hall in Princeton Monday night. The series has been well attended by firemen from all over the central Illinois district, and has proven invaluable to the firemen. Announcement was made that the Spring Valley Fire Department would serve as hosts to the Central Illinois Valley Association at a social meeting at the Riverside Ballroom next Thursday night, May 28.

The Kewanee firemen acted as hosts to their district meeting on Tuesday night of this week. A large crowd attended.

Confesses Aiding in Wendel Kidnap

Betrayed to police by his wife, who feared he would be a target for a gang slaying, Harry Weiss, picture after return to Brooklyn, N. Y., from his hide-out in Ohio, is reported to have verified in detail Paul H. Wendel's story of having been kidnapped and tortured into making his repudiated Lindbergh kidnapping confession. Weiss said he aided in abducting Wendel.

So prevalent has tobacco-smuggling become on the Franco-Belgian border that "dazzle guns" are being used to circumvent it. These guns throw, for a distance of four miles, a beam of light so powerful that it will temporarily blind anyone in its path.

FIRST IN THE STRATOSPHERE
While scientists in other parts of the world were contemplating a flight into the stratosphere, in May, 1931, a typically absent-minded Belgian professor of physics sealed himself with a companion in an aluminum gondola and waited aloft to the record height of 51,775 feet, nearly 10 miles. The man was Prof. Auguste Piccard, tall, high-browed, bushy-haired, and nervous.
It was the first time a human being had reached the realm beyond the high atmospheric layer that encircles the earth. Since then several others, in Russia, Italy, and the United States, have made stratosphere flights by both balloon and airplane, but Piccard beat his former record when, in August, 1932, he ascended to a height of 84,120 feet, or more than 16 1/2 miles.
Both flights were made over Switzerland.
Soon after the second flight Piccard issued a special stamp picturing the balloon and commemorating both events.

While scientists in other parts of the world were contemplating a flight into the stratosphere, in May, 1931, a typically absent-minded Belgian professor of physics sealed himself with a companion in an aluminum gondola and waited aloft to the record height of 51,775 feet, nearly 10 miles. The man was Prof. Auguste Piccard, tall, high-browed, bushy-haired, and nervous.
It was the first time a human being had reached the realm beyond the high atmospheric layer that encircles the earth. Since then several others, in Russia, Italy, and the United States, have made stratosphere flights by both balloon and airplane, but Piccard beat his former record when, in August, 1932, he ascended to a height of 84,120 feet, or more than 16 1/2 miles.
Both flights were made over Switzerland.
Soon after the second flight Piccard issued a special stamp picturing the balloon and commemorating both events.
